Dear Mr Gilman

Winding Up Petition

Thank you for your correspondence with my colleagues over recent days. I confirm an advertisement of winding up petition against C & G Concrete Limited was submitted for publication and later published due to a clerical error.

The circumstances as I understand them are:

5th May 2011: an advertisement was received from Lester Aldridge LLP and allocated to publication on 12th May.

6th May 2011: Lester Aldridge LLP re-submitted the advertisement which was allocated to publication on 10th May.

9th May 2011: Lester Aldridge LLP requested the advertisement to be withdrawn. It was withdrawn from the issue of 10th May.

12th May 2011: notification received from Lester Aldridge LLP that the advertisement had been published.

13th May 2011: a retraction was published in the next available issue.

Searches of The London Gazette website will reveal the retraction as well as original advertisement and I have taken steps to ensure that neither notice will appear on Google and other web search engines.

Yours sincerely

Richard Goodwin
